

Optical Flares Licensing Instructions

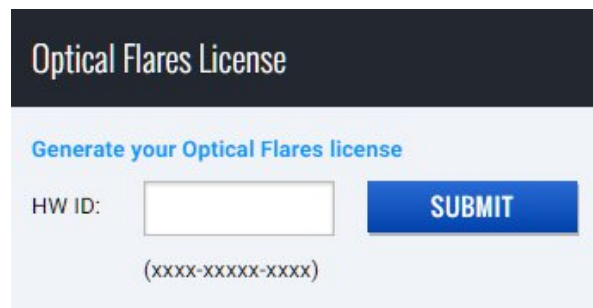

The first step is to download the plug-in installer file. Run it and it will install the plug-in.

Then open the Optical Flares Plug-in inside of After Effects. You will receive a Hardware Fingerprint window like you see below:

-To generate a license file, login to your Video Copilot download account. Once you log-in, click the Optical Flares download link. On that page is the license generator.

-Make sure you enter the hardware ID exactly as shown, sometimes "5's" can be confused with "S's" and "1's" for "l's" and so on and so forth. (There are no # "1's" for reference).

-The license file needs to be named exactly as follows: OpticalFlaresLicense.lic

-Once you obtain the key, drag it inside your Optical Flares folder.

-Here is an example of the path to this folder:

<C:\Program Files\Adobe\Adobe After Effects CC 2015\Support Files\Plugin\VideoCopilot>

You have successfully activated Optical Flares!
